

Programme Outcomes, Programme Specific Outcomes
For Ph.D. Programme

Programme Name: NEPALI

Number of Semesters: 01

Department of Nepali
University of North Bengal
West Bengal, INDIA

Programme Outcomes

- There are two parts in Ph.D. course work syllabus: (i) Research Methodology & (ii) Research ethics.
- The researchers can achieve appropriate knowledge of Research work & research writing by these research methodology & ethics.
- Both the parts are essential to a researchers. It has great significance for a researcher without which he can not work successfully.
- It is the first & foremost vision to the researchers without which they cannot write the thesis or any type of research- oriented works.

Programme Specific Outcomes

- After getting the admission any researcher may carry out his research work with the proper research methods. or guidance.
- In a specific given time (generally five years) a researcher can complete his Ph.D. research work and after evaluate of his work he/she may be awarded Doctor of Philosophy Degree.
- This kind of thesis may be accounted as a intellectual work. Similarly, it may be a great literary value.
- Any language or any literature be assess by such a unique research work.
- To hold a Ph.D. Degree to any researcher it becomes a specific outcomes at all.

